

Post renal biopsy care sheet

Radiology Department Patient Information Leaflet

Aftercare

Following your renal biopsy:

- You should rest for the next 24 to 48 hours.
- Have someone to stay with you overnight.
- Eat and drink normally.
- You may experience blood stained urine for up to 24 hours following the procedure, but this should subside. If it does not settle, you have any clots or bright red blood in your urine, or if you are unable to pass urine, seek medical advice urgently.
- You may experience discomfort at the site the biopsy was taken from for a day or two following the procedure. This is a common side effect. Take your usual pain relief, as prescribed, and seek medical advice should the pain persist or become severe.
- Continue with your normal medication as prescribed, except for anticoagulants (medicines that thin the blood), which should be restarted the following day – unless otherwise stated by the radiologist.
- Keep a check on the biopsy site. Look for any signs of bleeding or infection (bruising, redness and swelling).
- Observe for symptoms such as feeling dizzy/faint, feverish or generally unwell.
- Keep your wound clean and dry for 24 hours and remove the dressing the following day.

Please contact the Interventional Radiology Department on 01384 456111 ext. 1254 Monday to Friday, 9am to 5pm, if you need advice.

If you feel you need urgent medical attention or are worried about anything following the procedure outside of our normal opening hours, please attend your nearest walk-in centre or A&E department.
