

Equality Analysis

Legislation requires that our policy documents consider the potential to affect groups differently and eliminate or minimise this where possible. This process helps to address inequalities by identifying steps that can be taken to ensure equal access, experience, and outcomes for all groups of people.

Step One – Policy Definition

| Accountable Director: (Job Title) | Director of Governance |
| Assessment Carried out by: | Deputy Director of Governance |
| Date Completed: | 28/08/24 |

To help you to determine the impact of the policy think about how it relates to the Public Sector Equality Duty, the key questions as listed below the and prompts for each protected characteristic included Step 3:

- Eliminate unlawful discrimination, victimisation, and harassment
- Advancing equality of opportunity

-Fostering good community relations

KEY QUESTIONS

- Are people with protected characteristics likely to be affected differently even though the policy is the same for everyone? No
- Could there be issues around access, differences in how a policy is experienced and whether outcomes vary across groups? No
- What information /data or experience can you draw on to indicate either positive or negative impact on different groups of people in relation to implementing this function policy?

Step Two – Evidence & Engagement

| What evidence have you identified and considered? This can include research ((national, regional, local) surveys, reports, NICE guidelines, focus groups, pilot activity evaluations, clinical experts or working groups, information about Dudley's demographics, The Dudley Group equality and diversity reports, Joint Strategic Needs Assessment (JSNA) or other equality analyses, Workforce Race and Disability Equality data, anecdotal evidence. | | |

Engagement, Involvement and Consultation:

If relevant, please state what engagement activity has been undertaken and the date and with which protected groups:

| Engagement Activity | Protected Characteristic/ Group/ Community | Date |
|--|--|--|
| Policy/Plan and materials used to communicate with patients have been co-developed with the Patient Safety Partners | | Throughout implementation planning phase and post transition to PSIRF (ongoing development and oversight work) |
| For each engagement activity, please state the key feedback you have received and then use this in step 3. List a summary of the Feedback in the 'list of feedback received' column, then add your mitigation and then your action to address. | | |

Summary of the feedback:

No feedback

This policy is open to all people who are affected by this type of injury in the workplace and there is no evidence to suggest that there is any adverse impact on any of the protected characteristics.

The support within the policy remains available to all regardless of protected characteristic.

Step Three – Assessment of Impact

Complete relevant boxes below to help you record your assessment

Consider information and evidence from previous section covering:

- Engagement activities
- Equalities monitoring data
- Wider research

Also think about due regard under the general equality duty, NHS Constitution and Human Rights.

EQUALITY ANALYSIS - GUIDANCE NOTES

Equality Analysis is a tool for ensuring that issues for equality, diversity and inclusion are considered when drawing up or revising policies or proposals which affect the delivery of services and the employment practice of the Trust.

Why do carry out Equality Analysis?

We are required to carry out equality impact assessments because:

- There is a legal requirement to do so in relation to the protected characteristics
- They are helpful in identifying gaps and make improvements to services
- They help avoid continuing or adopting harmful policies or procedures
- They help you to make better decisions
- They will help you to identify how you can make your services more accessible and appropriate
- They enable the Trust to become a better employer

Equality Impact Assessments help us to:

- Determine how Trust policies and practice, or new proposals, will impact or affect different communities groups, especially those groups or communities who experience inequality, discrimination, social exclusion, or disadvantage.
- Measure whether policies or proposals will have a negative, neutral, or positive effect on different communities.
- Make decisions about current and future services and practice in fuller knowledge and understanding of the possible outcomes for different communities or customer groups.

What do we need to assess?

Trust policies are subject to a 3-year review. Alongside the reviews new policies will emerge. Most policies, strategies, and business plan will need an EA.

However, EAs are not required in relation changes in routine procedures, administrative processes or initiative that will not have a material impact on staff, patients, carers, and the wider community. Examples include things such as checking the temperature of fridges, highly technical clinical procedures, office moves etc.

DGFT Process for EIAs

The revised EIA process is a single stage process carried out in three steps

Step One: Policy Definition

This involves a description of the policy details. This also decides whether the policy under consideration needs an assessment

Step Two: Evidence and Engagement

EAs should be underpinned by sound data and information. This should be sought from a variety of sources including information on Trust record systems, consultation and engagement activities, demographic information sources etc.

Step Three: Assessment of Impact

This is the main and the most important part of the EIA.

To help you to determine the impact of the policy think about how it relates to the Public Sector Equality Duty, the key questions as listed below and prompts for each protected characteristic.

- Eliminate unlawful discrimination, victimisation, and harassment
- Advancing equality of opportunity
- Fostering good community relations

KEY QUESTIONS

- What information /data or experience can you draw on to indicate either positive or negative impact on different groups of people in relation to implementing this function policy
- Are people with protected characteristics likely to be affected differently even though the policy is the same for everyone?
- Could there be issues around access, differences in how a service or policy is experienced and produces outcomes that vary across different groups
- Does the policy relate to the Trust's equality objectives?

NB It is important that, where adverse impact is known or is likely, mitigation measures must identified and acted upon to reduce or minimise the impact.

Step Four: Assurance
